PRICE OF ASPHALT

Competition from a new source in the ordinary asphalt paving of St. Louis streets, which for a number of years has been concentrated in a small group of contractors. has served to reduce the cost to the city. New competition on two projects of patented pavement of asphaltic type also has brought about a marked reduction of cost of these controversial materials.

Low bids on 10 paving projects received by the Board of Public Service on Tuesday and analyzed yesterday, were from 8 to 25 per cent lower than the city's estimates of the probable cost, which were based on previous experience with prices. Included were six projects of asphaltic concrete, one each of Amiesite and Warrenite. the patented materials, and two of ordinary concrete, the latter not entering in the new competitive

3-inch layer of ordinary or sheet on a concrete base. It differs from the paving type referred to as "asphalt" only in that the lat-ter has a 3-inch top layer. Amie-site and Warrenite are laid in 2inch layers on concrete bases. These bases and those for asphalt and asphaltic concrete generally are six inches thick.

Price Fluctuation For some time the Bureau of Municipal Research has insisted that the two patented pavements. although they cost more than or-dinary asphalt, are worth no more. The Board of Public Service, how-ever, has continued to specify the patented materials frequently, even sometimes when affected taxpay-ers have demanded sheet asphalt. Fluctuation of the price per square yard including 6-inch base of the various pavements follows:

Asphaltic concrete—Average in 1928, $2.45; approximate average heretofore this year, $2.35; average in Tuesday's lettings, $2.26, the majority of the low bids being at $2.30,
Asphalt—Average in 1928,

$2.95; approximate average this year, $2.70; none involved in Tuesday's lettings.

Warrenite—Average in 1928,

$3.55; approximate average here-tofore in 1929, before competition sprang up, $3.60; price in Tuesday's letting, $3.40.

Amiesite—Average in 1929, 33.46; approximate average heretofore in 1929, before competition sprang up, $2.75; price in Tuesday's letting, $3.35. Patented Types High.

Asphaltic concrete is used on thoroughfares not carrying heavy traffic. Sheet asphalt, Warrenite and Amiesite are employed for heavy traffic. On the basis of Tuesday's bids, including bases, the cost per square yard of Warrenite is 26 per cent higher than the 1929 of Amiesite is 24 per cent higher. The Asphalt Paving Co. constitutes the competition which has invaded the sheet asphalt and the patented material field. The one project in Tuesday's letting on which it was low bidder, and for which it is expected to receive the contracts, calls for Amiesite. Another surprise in the letting was the competition for patented pro-jects of three concerns which heretofore have dealt with sheet asphalt.. One of these bidders, C. A. Moreno, was low bidder on Tuesday's Warrenite job.

In the past the Granite Bituminous Paving Co. and the Central Paving & Construction Co, have obtained the Warrenite business and the Webb-Boone Paving Co., the Paving & Construction Co, have obthe Webb-Boone Paving Co., the Amiesite. G. Locke Tarlton, a personal friends of Mayor Miller, owns the Central company. A Coroner's jury held Miss Knaak's death a suicide, but Spaid raid several new clews leading strongly to the murder theory have fallen into his hands.

The woman was burned last autumn in the furnace in the basement of the Lake Bluff Police Station. She mumbled on her death-ted that it was self-immolation. In the subsequent investigation it was disclosed that she had written many letters to Hitchcock, professing her love for him.

Hitchcock was a former the-atrical trouper, psychology instructor and teacher of public speaking. He will be arraigned on the burglary charge today.

ARMY DESERTERS ADMIT ATTACK ON MOTORING WOMEN

Two Held in Denver Admit Tying Victim With Own Clothing And Cutting Them,

DENVER. Aug. 15 .- Held here as deserters from the United States army, Gordon W. Frost, 22 years old, of East Pepperell, Mass., and Wayne C. Aldrich, 18, of Chicago, confessed last night that they had beaten and robbed two women motorists near Hoxie, Kan., Sun day night. They deserted from the Army Hospital at Fitzsimmons, near here, last Friday, and hitch-hiked to Limon.

At Limon they were picked up Sunday by Mrs. Beatrice Walsh, 34, and Miss Leda Beauregard, 21, of Concordia, Kan., and the four reached Hoxie about dusk. The deserters said the women became nervous as night fell, and started to return to Hoxie. Aldrich told the police he struck one of the women in the face. The women screamed. Finally the deserters drove into a field and dragged their victims from the car, tearing their clothing from them, and tying them with strips torn from dresses. The pair confessed they had slashed the women with a razor blade "to stop their screams."

Both men waived extradition for their return to Kansas, By the Associated Press.

First Ever to Make Journey-Crowded Conditions on Train.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 .- Two American women who went down the Volga River on a steamboat on which no Americans had traveled before and across Southern Rusvia in third-class coaches, shared with soldiers and gypsies and peasants, told yesterday of the adventures : y encountered after avoiding official Soviet guidance. Miss Fjeril Hess, a member of the Prague Survey Commission in 1919, and Miss Barbara Abel, managing editor of the Woman's Press, the offici ' organ of the Y. W. C. A., went first to Leningrad as the donna of the Russian opera. Their arrival coincided with the decision of the Government to cut Mme. Kovalenko's apartment in half, even halving the kitchen.

guests of Mme. Kovalenko, prima

"Miss Hess knew enough Rusvian to ask when trains left, and to order what we wanted to eat; and we decided to make the trip down the Volga on a steamboat," Miss Abel, a pretty blond young woman said. "On board was a professor of the State Conservatory at Moscow. We heard the peasants singing their songs and went down to join them. They in return for our interest asked us for Negro spirituals. "We are forced to make a threeday trip from Saratov to Kiev by third-class, sleeping one person on a low bed and the other on a board slung overhead. Gypsies and peasants and soldiers shared the carriage and we were warned not to leave our baggare a moment or it would be stolen.

"We heard that one traveler was left with only his undershirt, and the fact that we lost no baggage was considered a miracle. On this trip we saw many of the 'wild children.' They made their way across Russia swinging from the under sections of the coaches. They were so dirty they looked like clay models. They couldn't have been more than 13.

"The peasants had one question which they constantly asked us: 'Can you buy all the bread you want in America?"

Miss Hess, a writer of children's books, said fairy tales had been eliminated from the State's program. She brought back with her many of the beautifully illustrated instructive books which have been prepared for the young.

Miss Hess and Miss Abel were the guests of President Masaryk in Czecho-Slovakia. They returned from their month's trip last week.

POLICE DENY BEATING ALLEGED BAR ROBBER

Capt. Adolph Amhrein Says Victim of Holdup Hit H. C. Graham.

denial that Harry C. Graham of Chicago, charged with first-degree robbery, had been mistreated by police, as Graham alleged when arraigned in Court of Criminal Correction yesterday, was issued today by Police Capt. Adolph Amhrein of Central District. Graham, jointly charged with William F. Maher, also of Chicago, with the holdup of the Coney Island Cafe, 110 (rear) North Eighth street, last Sunday, told Provisional Judge Weinbrenner that he had been subjected to the third degree, one of the policemen using a nightstick. His attorney, Fred Saigh, pointed to Graham's eyes, which were discolored, one ear which was bruised, two loose teeth and a cut on his lip in which several stitches had been taken, as evidence of his having been beaten.

"If you look at our report made after Graham was arrested near the scene of the oldup, you will see that he was beaten by a victim of the holdup as police were calling in at the box for a patrol wagon," said Capt. Amhrein.

"The customers of the place had been terrorized and one man came up to Graham afterwards and said, You were pretty tough in there. Let's see how tough you are now,' and struck Graham before we could stop him. That's where he got his injuries. We haven't laid a finger on him."

Saigh asked permission of the court to have his client examined by a physician and his injuries photographed. The court said the or-der would be granted if Graham was unable to make bond by today. Both Graham and Maher entered pleas of not guilty and were trans-ferred from Central District hold-over to the City Jail.

The hearing was set for next Tuesday.

Graham is also charged under the habitual criminal act, as police records show he served a term in an Illino's r itentiary for operating a confidence game.

BISHOP CANNON

Jeers at University of Virginia institute Halt Church Editor's Plea of "Unjust Criticism."

UNIVERSITY, Va., Aug. 15 .- A defense of Bishop James Cannon Jr. of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, against attacks by "wets," met with cries of disapproval last night during an address by Stanley High, editor of the Christian Herald, before the Institute of Public Affairs here.

"A great deal of unjust criticism of Bishop Cannon," High said, has been coming from the wets in order to divert the issue-"

A jeering cry from the audience interrupted him. In a moment the cry was taken up by others until it appeared that the greater part of the audience was giving vent to a feeling of disapproval. High turned to other matters in his address when he started speaking

High was defending prohibition, engaging in quasi-debate with Gov. Albert C. Richie of Maryland, who attacked the eighteenth amendment. Both speakers were applauded generously and except for the reference to Bishop Cannon, the address by High was uninterrupted and followed attentively. High contended that "liquor defles regulation and demands de-

"You don't find folks advocating a revolution on behalf of a dead issue." he said, "and yet thatthe advocating of a revolution—is precisely what some of the most distinguished friends of anything but prohibition now propose." Congress not the states, is the nullifier of prohibitoin.

Ritchie said in his address.

"There are doubtless those who believe the eighteenth amendment

"Of course, Congress will never make an adequate effort to enforce the law. I mean adequate in the view of those who think it pos-sible to enforce it. Mr. Doran, the Prohibition Commissioner, told the committee of Congress that this would cost the Government at least $300,000,000 a year, Congress will never appropriate any such sum and it will never create the gi-gantic enforcement machinery

FOR 13 EXECUTORS

Only Widow and Two of 12 Associates of Banker Named Will Serve, at Attorney's Suggestion.

Filing today of the will of Dietrich Hedenkamp, banker and bank equipment manufacturer, showed that he had named a record number of executors, 13.

Twelve business associates of Mr. Twelve business associates of Mr. Hedenkamp were named as co-executors and trustees with his wife of his estate, estimated to be worth more than $500,000. But the attorney for the estate, Robert M. Zeppenfeld, thought that so large a group of executors would be unwieldly, and agreeing with him, 10 of the men named have said that they would decline to qualify. This will leave two to serve with the widow.

The two who will qualify and serve as co-executors and trustees are T. Henry Ruppert and Joseph B, Gander. The others named in the will as co-executors and trustees are Edmond Koein, City Collector; Oliver G. Chapman, License Collector; George J. Baisch, Armin Pfisterer. Fred J. Oehm, Thomas

Collector; George J. Baisch, Armin Pfisterer, Fred J. Oehm, Thomas H. Schutz, Walter Scott, Fred Ul-rich, Dr. J. Andrew Youngman and

All the 12 men had served with Mr. Hedenkamp on the board of directors of the American Exchange National Bank, 6639 South Kings-highway, of which he was vice president and of which Collector Koeln is president.

Places Estate in Trust.
The will places the estate in trust and provides that from the in-come Mrs. Hedenkamp shall receive $1000 a month for support and maintenance, and for education of her three sons, Richard, Walter and Dietrich Hedenkamp. Each son is to receive a one-eighth share of the estate at the age of 26 years, and another one-eighth

This will leave one-fourth of the estate to provide income for Mrs. Hedenkamp during her widowhood. In the event of her remarriage, a one-fourth interest is to be turned over to her. If she should die while the trust was still in force, her one-fourth share would be divided among the sons.

among the sons.

Mrs. Hedenkamp will have the option of reflouncing the trust provision of the will and receiving her one-fourth share absolutely. The oldest of the sons is 19 years old.

Title to valuable real estate held jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Hedenkamp will pass to her without administration. The personal present ministration. The personal prop-erty, to be administered, includes erty, to be administered, includes $92,000 life insurance and stocks and bonds. The executors and trustees will be entitled to a division of 5 per cent of the disbursements as their compensation. The 10 named as co-executors, who do not qualify, will receive no compensation.

Wanted Sons to Make Own Way.
The will leaves $5000 to be divided among Father Dunn's Newsboys' Home, the Sisters of St. Mary, the Masonic Home of Missouri and cifies that after each of the sons has received his education, no part of the income is to be used for his comfort before he attains the age of 26. "It is my judgment," the father wrote, "that it will be best for my sons that they be required to make their own way and provide for their own support and maintenance." The will was made June 4, 1926.

The Giants were far ahead of their 1929 attendance at home early in the season, but since then the crowds have not attended. The Cardinals, on their last trip here attracted only 25,000 to a Sunday double-header. And that is why when it rained a few drops early yesterday afternoon the game was postponed and two were carded for Saturday. It rained harder after deponent and two were carded for furday. C ONNIE MACK after fifteen years of uphill work-seven years of uphill work—seven or them spent in the ground floor apartment of the American League—sees the championship goal again. In fact, he would not be human if he were not counting his chickens before the eggs hatched.

When he, in 1914 asked waivers on Plank, Bender and some of the greatest players known to baseball. Connie thought it would be easy to rebuild to pennant strength, without reiging on the veterans who "bit the hand that fed them." He figured that he could mould new talent, as he had done before, and so we be in the running again. e running again.
"We'll be knocking at the door about three years." Counie

Three years passed six years passed—Connie was still in last place. New stars were strangely wanting. Connie could no longer disappear on a scouting trap and turn up with a bunch of near world heaters. The colleges seems world beaters. The colleges gave him no more Eddie Collinses. The fact was that other clubs had found out about scouting schools, colleges and low class leagues and were "rcbbing the cradle" in their quest for stars even as Counie had done

Mack Changes His System. FTER six years Contie de-

A cided that his system was wrong. No longer could great the value of baseball players. The pickings were slim. Then

The pickings were slim. Then Connie decided he must change his plans. Since he could not build he must buy talent.

He sent in the old analyrell and began to deal out fabulous sums. He paid $106.080 for Grove, which almost met the great cash price of $125.000 paid for Ruth.

He had to buy the entire Portland-Baseball club to get Mickey Cochrane, it is said.

Other costly pieces of bricabrae were added to his collection from time to time. Co-tly is right—Cobb and Speaker alone set him back more than $100,000 for a single year's services.

And steadily Connie climbed to the goal and here ne is today.

The difference between three and 15 in years is a long span; but Connie now, apparently, is to reap his reward by going over the top. If he does, there will be no individual in all baseballdom to begrudge him the herd-won success.

It will have been carned.

It will have been earned.

Outdoor Shows Waning?
OUTDOOR boxing shows have not enjoyed such a wonder-not enjoyed such a wonderful season as in previous years.

Even in New York, the city in which they originated and rose to undreamed of financial heights, the summer has been almost barren.

In St. Louis and cities where no major championships are possible the situation has been werse. Only one local outdoor ring show this year really made money and then but little.

Sweeral factors militated against success: Unpleasantly high temperatures, vacationing, interruption from min, the rush to the country to bool off in auto rides and the compansitive comfort enjoyed in picture shows artificially cooled.

Fans will not punish themselves for the average ring show on a disagreeably warm evening.

the past. They relieve the promoter of weather uncertainty and provide comfortable conditions for both spectators and athletes.

The sooner St. Louis comes to this view the sooner midsummer boging and wrestling show pro-moters will get out of the red.

THE lively ball is threatening

I to put baseball in a class with college football, in one respect -hashing the rules. Annually football is operated on. The doctors perform all sorts of feats on the poor old grid game and its own tather of 40 years and its own tather of 40 years age would not know the pastime. Suggestions for abating the lively ball are also becoming radical. Here are some of them:

Enlarge the parks.

Increase the distance between the lases to 93 feet.

"Zone" the ball park with screens, to keep down the home run hitting.

De-cork the core of the ball. Put a thicker leather on the outside of the ball, wind the yarn more loosely, etc.

Restore freak-ball pitching and the spitball. and the spithall.

And so on, ad infinitum.

THE most radical proposal was that changing the diamond to a 95-foot square, instead of the present one of 90 feet. Such an alteration would game, make the throws harder and longer, perhaps require a game all over again, in mechanical execution of plays.

ical execution of plays.

The simplest way would be to restore the baseball to its lesser resiliency of a few years ago namely; reduce or remove the cushioned-cork center, us American instead of Australian wool in the baseball and hover the tension on the yarn in the winding process.

In other words, de-rabbit the baseball, but let the diamond alone.

Faced a Real Champion

The movies now and then have converted stream darnings into fairly presentable herees of sport. With a good fightast to coach them, the streen show goes over with fairly truthful reflections of a reat fight. Richard Dix, with the aid of Jack Remain, almost tooked like a fighter.

For the most part, however, the movie world has gene direct to real life for its fight and sport characters. In many cases the reason for thus, as in the case of Dempser, was not the athlete's histrionic ability, but the cash value of his name and fame.

Few perhaps know that Victor McLaghlen, the screen star, was a fighter in his own right. He can boast of having been the first lighter to tace Jack Johnson, after the Binck Menace won his title from Tohmy Birris, in 1998. Johnson wen the evewn in December, in Sydney, Anstralia, and his next battle war with McLaghlen in Vanocuver, the following March. His record above that McLaghlen inser to the champion in six rounds.

In these days instirg six rounds with Johnson was an authoryment.

The detail of winning by a short margin does not always mean that the horse was barely able to last it out. There have been quite a few notable horses that raced with great success which usually won their races by the scantest of margins which would cause spectators to think they just lasted and were lucky to win. Then the next time out they would be a good price in the betting and score another head or nack victory. "It is a well known phenomenon that in the summer the growth of hair is morerapid,"says Dr. Arnold Lorand, Vienna Dermatologist.

THAT Hair grows faster in the summer than at any I other season is an established scientific fact. You can take advantage of this seasonal peculiarity by starting Thomas' hair and scalp treatment at once.

Your hair and scalp treatment at once.

Your hair will respond more quickly to this famous proved method of treatment now than at any other time. Within an unusually short time your dandruff will disappear, hairfall will stop, and new hair will actually be visible on the thin and bald spots. Call at the Thomas' office and talk your problem over with the specialist in charge. He will gladly examine your scalp without charge or obligation and frankly tell you what Thomas' treatment can do for you.

THAT'S THE WAXaw and Bartell All-America Team "Timber," Babe Ruth Writes

Neither the Athletics' Pitcher Nor the Pirate Infielder Has Received Recognition His Work Merits.

By Babe Ruth.

DETROIT, Aug. 15 .- It appears hat every ball club you hear about there are three or four players who stand out. They're the ones the fans rave about and the ones the newspaper boys play up big. But always, if you look around you'll find a couple of other players on the same team who don't get into the limelight much, but who mean a lot to the club when it comes to winning ball games.

I was just thinking of the Athletics. You read a great deal about Simmons, Foxx and Cochrane You read about Grove and Wat berg, too. But there's another man on that team t. has meant a whole lot to Con-nie. And he's a fellow you never hear much about at all. I mean Earnshaw, the b i g right-hand pitcher, who used to be with Balti-

The contestant naming the same players in the same positions and hatting order as Babe Ruth wins the first prize; but in event no contestant duplicates Ruth's picks, the one nearest will be considered the winner.

In addition to naming the players to conform to those chosen by Ruth, contestants must arrange them in the same batting order as Babe Ruth. The Babe has agreed to place his choices in the order in which he thinks they should go to the (This feature is new. Previously it was sufficient to name the men according to position only.) An explanatory letter of not more than 250 words must accompany the selections and will be passed upon by the judges. This is as important as selecting the players. Babe himself will write an explanation of his choices. In event of tie, excel-lence of the compositions would determine the winner. (Write on one side of the paper only and make your selections on a sepateam, two pitchers and eight other players, one for each position. Only one team may be submitted by each contestant.

No corrections will be accepted once an entry has been received and filed. Babe Ruth is not eligible. He will not pick himself. Players must be selected on the basis of their play in the 1929 season only. Performances of previous years do not count.

A player may be placed in a position other than the one he regularly occupies, provided he has played such position in one or more championship games. Otherwise regular positions must be rigidly adhered to. For instance, a regular left fielder may not be placed in right field, unless he has played there at least once in 1929.

The trophies will be $100 cash for first, $75 for second and $50 for the third, $25 for the fourth and five others of $10 each. A dozen autographed Babe Ruth bats and another dozen autographed baseballs mounted on blotters will be the other mementoes for successful contest

GARAGE DOORS ARE IMPORTANT

Before you buy ANY garage it is wise to get the SPECIFICATIONS. Garrett Garages are built to last, and they do last. They last longer because the specifications calls for better material. For example: All doors are hung on a heavy box rail track, and slide on a roller-bearing and ball-bearing hanger. Rollers, inside of the track, prevent sticking or jumping off the track. All doors automatically lock in position when open, preventing blowing shut. All doors are guaranteed not to sag or warp. These, and other refinements not found in ordinary garages, are always present in Garrett Garages.

We regard it as un-American and con-trary to the fundamental principle of equality before the law that any citizen, merely because he is a Congressman or other official, should be exempted from in-spection of baggage or from the operation of law or departmental regulations, while others who are merely part of the plain people, are required to submit thereto. On the contrary, public officials should be the first to set the example of scrupulous acthe law. While under the technical rules of the criminal law and in view of the nonexamination of the baggage following the grant of free entry, a criminal prosecumay not be possible in this case, neverthe-less an official who prevented examination of baggage by claim of free entry and by threat of causing trouble in Washingt cannot complain of the consequences when weighed in the forum of public opinion,

I think that every citizen, whether we or dry, will agree with that statement of principle. Until politicians are made to obey the laws which they enact, we cannot expect respect for the law by those who are opposed not so much to prohibition as to

FOR THE OLD EYES OF ASIA.

Crime, the Criminal and the Prison

With wave of violence following war, law-makers struck back by providing severe penalties; result of fight on lawlessness now shown in overcrowded institutions and in outbreaks; society offers no chance for discharged ex-convict, but bootleg industry welcomes him; new public attitude toward problem necessary.

THE recent riots in the New York State prisons at Dannemo a and Auburn and the Federal prison at Leavenworth have agair, stirred languid public interest, which in a few days will doubtless die down, in the question of the treatment of criminals. all the long and melancholy history of human stupidity and fo.'y there is no more depressing chapter than that which records the dealings of society with its delinquent classes. It is not clear that we have made any substantial progress from the days of Draco in dealing effectively with crime.

Indeed, it is doubtful whether there exists, even today, any adequate and clear-cut body of theory on the basis of which it is reasonable to look for a satisfactory working out of the problem. The whole question of crime and the criminal is intimately bound up with our basic institutions of property and the present state resting on force. Few men, therefore, are willing to face the implications of any real plan for improving the lot of our criminal population. You cannot reform the criminal without reforming society. Few persons are willing to reform society, and those who are, unless they be harmless and ineffective intellectuals, are likely of course to get clapped into jail themselves for their ef-

In the wake of the war, which did so much to set back thought and practice in almost every field of human endeavor except that of material accomplishment, we have witnessed a backward swing of public opinion in respect to the treatment of crimnals. The world became accustomed again to violence, bestiality and sanctified hate and cruelty. With the new habituation to violence, and the added facilities offered by the automobile, there came a marked in-creuse in certain primes of violence. Acting in the unthinking fashion all too common in such cases, our law-makers struck back.

We have had a veritable plague of laws based on the idea of making penalties so severe as to put the fear of God into the hearts of law-breaker and thus restrain them from crime. Two examples at once occur to everyone: The Jones law, which s undoubtedly going to help make it impossible to convict violators of the Voistead ac and the notorious Baumes laws of New York, which as thei, crowning glory provide life imprisonment for persons convicted of four felonies. T'ese laws are only examples of a whole crop of legislative measures which seek to repress crime by threatening law-breakers with unconscious bie pensities. The Jones law has been widely and justly condemned, but it has been criti-cis far more often because its critics did not want prohibition enforced than because the false theory underlying it. The Baumes laws and their like, repudiated though they have oeen by practically ill competent students, have not yet so much as been threatened with repeal or modificagaily and unthinkingly rushed into a war on worth we are simply reaping what we have sown. From each of these prisons and from others throughout the country come essentially the same reports, of desperat men subjected to rigid discipline in overcrov ded quarters under conditions offering no hope here or hereafter. Any incident starts a revolt. The prison keepers of the

Another extremely dangerous element is injected into the situation by the growth of the bootlegging industry. In our war crime we make it all but impossible for the ex-convict to get and keep an honest job. But the organised sellers of illegal liquor offer him a job at good money, and protection, so far as possible, in case he is caught. This combination means, plainly enough, an increase of crime and a demand for repression.

The time has come, then—and happily these prison outbreaks have led public authorities to call attention to the necessity-for a new public attitude concerning crime. We do not refer simply to the neces a modification and repeal of savage laws. important as that is at the proper time. We do mean that we have got to get rid of the notion of retaliation on the criminal and even of the notion of punishment in the ordinary sense. Society must protect itself of course, but in so doing it has no right to destroy the bodies and souls of the against whom it must protect itself, and that is just what we always have done, what we doing, and what, we shall continue to do so long as we act on our present theory of punishment as essentially a deterrent.

We are advocating no softness with criminals, but we are advocating the enlightened as well as humane prison policy which re-gards the ends of punishment as solely the protection of society and the reform, if pos-sible, of the offender. As stated in the Leginning, we cannot go far without fundamental social and economic reforms for which we must doubtless wait a long while, but we can make a beginning, as certain ealightened penologists have already shown. The indeterminate sentence, the parole system, the juvenile court, the payment of prisoners, the scientific examination and treatment of individual offenders, and other reform measures may put some element of hope for future normal life into the existenc of those unfortunate beings who for one reason and another, mostly connected with poverty, lack of training, or mental 63fect, have come within the clutches of the law. It is to measures such as these, and not to the multiplication of savage laws, that we must look. Intelligence and hu-manity are still our only hope. We shall never lessen crime by making war on it.

Dr. Neal Warns against Flies and

Ohio State Director of Health says they are a menace to Summer Health and Cleanliness says the U.S. Public Health Service, speaking of the common house fly. "Thousands of people die every year from diseases transmitted by flies!"

fly is born in filth and spreads millions of germs over everything it touches-hands, face and food. Flies are known carriers of disease. Kill flies. Kill all of them.

every single fly you see. One fly, left alive, may multiply to 1,500,000,000 flies in four months! Now that there is an easy way to get rid of all insects, there is no excuse for suffering from them.

Health investigations have proved there is twice

CHARLES A. NEAL, M.D., Director of Health, State of Ohio, says:
"The spread of certain communicable diseases by various insects has long been recognized in Public Health work. The spread of malaria fever and yellow fever by certain breeds of mosquitoes, as well as the spread of typhoid fever, infantile diarrhea and other forms of intestinal disturbances by the common boule fly has been definitely proven. Any efforts to exclude these pests from homes is to be encouraged."

sucking bite of the mosquito. Kill mosquitoes-all of them. Your comfort, cleanliness, health, sometimes life itself, depend upon a constant warfare against flies, mosquitoes and other household insects.

There is no excuse for tolerating flies and mosquitoes today, when it is so easy to kill every last one with Flit. Flit is the ideal insect-killer. Although Flit has a greater per-centage of insect-killing ingredients, and is deadly to all household insects, it is perfectly harmless to people and can be freely and safely used in any home. Its vapors will not stain. Flit is guaranteed to work or money back. Flit is not made to sell at a low price, but is made to a high standard of service and uniform quality. On account of its many superior features, refuse substitutes and insist on the original, genuine Flit—the World's Largest Selling Insecticide. More for the money in the quart size.

Marvelous flavor, yes! Inimital quality, yes! But above all...

Scrupulous Purity

Pure as a tumbling stream at its source . . . cooling as the drink you take from its running depths . . . refreshing as quenching your thirst with its clear water ... this is "Canada Dry."

The ingredients which are used in this fine old ginger ale are the best. The ginger is the finest Jamaica can grow. The process of blending and balancing is exact and unvarying. The carbonation is delicate and uniform. But most important of all-purity! Ingredients . . . ginger . . . and daily tests under laboratory methods.

Its flavor has won the approving nod of connoisseurs the wide world over. Its distinction wins it a place in the world. But "Canada Dry" could not have flavor or quality. unless it first had purity. Try this fine old beverage today.
